The Philadelphia cardinals are on a strike.

There are four persons now under sentence of death in Connecticut.

Mrs. Swishland gives her sex a hard rub occasionally. Here is her last:

"I wish, Sally," said Jonathan, "that you were locked up in my arms and the key was lost."

At New Orleans, during the week ending Sept. 27th, there were 15 deaths from cholera and 11 from yellow fever.

A great Union meeting was held at Jackson Miss., on the 19th of Sept., which declared in favor of the Compromise bills.

"I know no passion more appropriate to devils, than the passion for gross misrepresentation and libel."—Daniel Webster.

An Irish student was once asked what was meant by posthumous works. "They are such works," says Paddy, "as a man writes after he is dead."

A Kentucky officer, strongly opposed to camp-meetings, says he has no notion of "camping out on his road to heaven."

The Frost saw the pretty Flower and sought to marry. "Wilt thou," said the Frost, and the Flower wilted.

I don't like to patronize this line," said a capitalist to a hugganman. "O, never mind this one," was the reply, "it will soon suspend its operation."

The amendment of $200,000, adopted by the senate for the extension of the capitol, was reduced by the house to $100,000, before it was passed.

The term "Ship-shape" was first used by the sailors of the mercantile marine to distinguish sailing vessels from those which had been in the government dockyards.

It was the Rev. Mr. Nightingale, (the evangelist) who gave us a 4th of July toast at Chickopee: "Our five engines—may they be like old mules, ever ready but never wanted."

A country poet, after looking about over life, has come to the following conclusion:—

"Oh, I wouldn't live forever,
I wouldn't if I could;
But I wouldn't fret about it,
For I couldn't if I would."

"It is marvellously strange how a woman can think herself contaminated by the slightest social intercourse with the victim of a seducer, but cover her face all over with smiles to receive the seducer himself."

We learn from the Lincoln (Mr.) Miscellany, that there will probably be a general suspension of the manufacturing operations in this city, and that sixteen thousand inhabitants will be thrown out of employment. Whew! Think of that, girls.—Lowell paper.

A FISHING TOWN. The only fishing place in this country is Lansingburg, N. Y. An exchange says:—

For the last twenty years there has not been a board added nor a nail driven in the whole place. A man undertook to mend his stomp last week, but he was promptly arrested and sent to jail. Platt says the whole village still believes that De Witt Clinton is governor of New York State.

By the recent death of Col. Wm. Croghan of Pittsburgh, his daughter, who some years since eloped with Capt. Schindley, of the British Army, remains in the entire possession of an estate valued at $5,000,000. Mrs. Schindley is now residing at Southampton, England.

Mrs. Conner, who some years ago laid claim to the immense property of Gen. Van Ness, of Washington City, on the alleged ground of being his widow, has recently come in possession of about five hundred thousand dollars, left to her by a distant relative in New Orleans.

THE EYE. It is more difficult to make the eye than any other organ we are possessed of. To tell what a woman says, pay attention to her tongue. If you wish to ascertain what she means, pay attention to her eye. To talk in opposition to her heart is one of the easiest things in this world; to look this opposition, however, is more difficult than algebra.

TO JAMES R. LOWELL, WITH A GOLD PEN. A gold pen is a little thing—
But in thy poet hand
It will make life, it will take wing—
Become a magic wand
More powerful, more wonderful,
Than Alchemy of old,
It can make minds all beautiful,
And change all things to gold.
FREDERICK BARNER.

Nagasaki, Sept. 11, 1850.

"Jeems, how are them abolitioners going to dissolve the Union? Part of it I believe they can get anything to dissolve it in."

"Why, you dunce, you calculate to dissolve it in that new composition, the universal solvent."

"Just so, and perhaps if it is a universal solvent you can tell me what kind of vessel they will get to hold it in?" Jeems evaporated.

"What are you about, my dear?" said a lady to her grandson, who was sliding along the zodiac, and exclaiming furiously against a gentleman who was paying a visit. "I am trying, grandmamma, to steal papa's hat out of the room, without letting that on-see see," said he pointing to the gentleman, "for papa wants him to think that he is out!"

ROBERT OF THE SUFFOLK BANK.—On Saturday afternoon a bag of specie, amounting to $5000, was stolen from the counter of the Suffolk Bank, under the following circumstances, as related in the Post:

"Between 1 and 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon a bag containing $5000 in gold was stolen from the counter of the Suffolk Bank, just after it had been placed there by the messenger of the Exchange Bank. Previously, officer Starkweather had noticed in the street a man whom he supposed to be a thief, and discovered from his movements that he knew Starkweather to be an officer and therefore requested Major Thatcher to keep an eye upon him, while he, Starkweather, remained a little in the back ground."

In a few minutes Major T. saw the stranger go up into the bank, and, upon following him up, found him making some memorandum on a piece of paper. The next moment, just as the teller had turned round from the counter, the thief lifted the bag of gold, tucked it under his sack, and walked out, Major T. following him. Upon reaching the street, Major T. beckoned to Starkweather, and supposing the signal was observed by S., continued on after the thief into Kirby street, where he was joined by an accomplice. The two then proceeded southward, Major T. keeping in their wake until they entered the Fountain House, at the corner of Beach street and Harrison avenue. He still thought Starkweather was following, and went back to meet him, but such was not the fact, and in the interim the couple that entered the Fountain House left it unobserved, and have not been seen since."

The fair of Massachusetts had opened yesterday, Aug. 28th, as they say the annual fair.

Der Dvvel den der dyster lag.

Like that Spirit of the "mighty deep,"—the serpent—which is now here—there—nowhere—no these perturbed spirits, the "spiritual knockers." Now at Rochester; anon at N. York; then away in the far West. We are credibly informed that they have recently announced themselves to the citizens of the ancient settlement of "Valterberry," waking the superstitious Dutch settlers from their natural apathy, and quickening their pulsation to, at least, forty a minute!

Their last communication was made to a gentleman of our village—"a way-faring man" who "turned in for a night"—at the half-way house in Waldoboro', but being given in High Dutch they were left with the 'Squire for translation.' They will, doubtless, be ready for our next issue with full particulars.

We devoted a few moments of Monday morning to an inspection of the new sch. "CELESTIAL," just launched from the yard of Sanford Street. She is a model schooner, built of choice material, strongly fastened and of fine finish; registers 119 tons. She is commanded by Capt. A. W. F. FLETCHER—than whom, no young man is more worthy to tread her deck as commander.

We have under our table—as conspicuous among its fellows for size as is the partner of the donor—a Beot, of the blood variety, raised in the garden of Mr. Benj. P. Dean, measuring eighteen inches in circumference and weighing five pounds. The donor will please accept our thanks for this lot.

It will be seen, on reference to the advertisement of Mr. WICKERS, that at last we have that long wished for desideratum, a well stocked Shoe Store—and we bespeak for its enterprising proprietor such patronage as shall warrant its continuance—you will please call.

Steamboat Explosion and Loss of Life.

Puduch, Oct. 7th. The steamer Kate Fleming, from Louisville for Cairo, burst both her boilers on Saturday, and afterwards burned to the water's edge.

Ten persons are reported to have been killed or missing. Seven or eight were wounded—amongst them, the Captain, dangerously, and nineteen are reported as badly burned. Captain Duncan and seven others were on the hurricane deck at the time, and were blown several feet in the air. Some fell on the wreck and others into the water; the latter saved themselves by swimming.

Physicians left here this morning, to render assistance to the sufferers.

Later From Fort Laramie.

St. Louis. A letter from Fort Laramie, dated August, says—"The tide of emigration has almost ceased. The Mormon emigration, it is estimated, will be about 5000."

The register this season exhibits the number of emigrants as 39,500 men, 2,500 women, 600 children, 8,000 mules, 36,000 oxen, 7,000 cows and 9,000 wagons.

The deaths en route were 316. It is estimated that one-fifth did not register their names.

The emigrants were suffering much from the want of food and the loss of their animals. 1000 names would not cover the number of deaths between the Missouri and the Sacramento valley.

The small pox was prevailing among the Sioux Indians.

Jenny Lind in Providence.

M. Lind was received with much enthusiasm in Providence yesterday, her concert last evening appears to have given general satisfaction. The Journal says:—

"Howard Hall was filled as closely as it could be packed, with a brilliant audience, in the highest expectation. The expectation was fully gratified, and those who were best qualified to judge were warmest in their admiration."

Middle Lind and suite returned to Boston in a special train soon after the concert. The Providence Journal thinks it not improbable that she will give another concert in that city.

A Fugitive Slave meeting was held in New Bedford last evening, which adjourned over to this evening, without transacting any business of importance. A series of resolutions was reported, which will be considered this evening.

LOUISIANA, New York, Oct. 8. Returns from Louisiana make Johnson's election doubtful. So far, Ballard, the regular Whig candidate, has a small majority.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7th. John A. Collier has been appointed District Judge at San Francisco, and T. Butler King, Collector; both accept. Mr. Sloan, of Ohio, has accepted the appointment as Treasurer.

Our readers will doubtless be glad to "hear of the wheelbarrow." The Alta California of Aug. 6, chronicles his arrival.

"The man with the wheelbarrow," who has been often noticed by emigrants, who have seen him on his way across the plains, arrived at Coloma about a week ago. He states that he got the California fever, and as he had not means to purchase a team, he loaded his wheelbarrow with 150 lbs. of provisions, besides his cooking utensils and baggage, and started from the States on the long journey.

He was able to make greater headway than most of the teams, as he lost no time except for his meals and sleep—When he arrived at Salt Lake, he found an opportunity of joining a company then about starting; so he left his faithful hand carriage by the side of the road, and "on he came a whistling." That man will make his pile.

PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SHOULD BE READ BY ALL OTHERS.

While it is well known that Physicians invariably and properly reject the administration and approval of medicines combined by others than themselves, it would seem, (to the more ready of the numerous credentials of the virtues of Dr. Corbett's Concentrated Syrup of Sarsaparilla,) an emigma, that the ablest professors of Colleges, and the most distinguished Physicians and Chemists of the country, should so unanimously commendatory of Dr. Corbett's invaluable preparation of Sarsaparilla.

But the facts are simply these, viz: The Formula is freely placed with them! It is no secret, mystic remedy. It is a combination of the most active remedial medicinal agents, as compared by the dispensaries of Wood and Bache, Dr. Thatcher, and Gray's Supplement, of London.

Let the consumptive, the sufferer by diseased blood, and those of deranged systems, but read what physicians say.

Meredith Bodge, N. H., 1847.

GENTLEMEN:—I have used in my practice, for a few years past, the Compound Concentrated Syrup of Sarsaparilla, prepared by the United Society of Shakers, and I consider it of great value in the treatment of diseases of the blood and skin, and of the system, and many of those depraved conditions of the general health, termed in medical terms, "Scrophulous." I can recommend it to be superior to any preparation of Sarsaparilla now before the public. I would also recommend it to the profession as a perfect article, and one that will fully answer their expectations.

LOST VOICE RESTORED.

New Bedford, Aug. 10, 1848.

Mr. S. W. Fowler. Having seen many certificates published in relation to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, I take this opportunity of offering a word in its favor, which you are also at liberty to publish. A few months since my wife's lungs became so much affected by a sudden cold that she lost her voice, and suffered severely from pain in the breast. Her situation caused her friends much alarm. Having heard your Balsam strongly recommended by those who had used it, I purchased a bottle of your agent in this place. She took it according to directions, and it produced a wonderful effect. Before using one bottle she had completely recovered her voice, the glands ceased, and her health was soon fully restored.

Yours truly,

HENRY G. BRIGHTMAN.
